Society, in the midst of a pandemic, is facing one of the greatest job losses in history, as well as one of the most important redistributions of wealth ever seen due to the so-called fourth industrial revolution.
BLOCKCHAIN
CRYPTO CURRENCIES
AND DeFi FINANCES
It is not just the future anymore, it is the present.

1. The blockchain technology and its applications aim to revolutionize 55 industries.
2. The market capitalization of the crypto-currencies exceeds one trillion dollars at the beginning of 2021.
3. The DeFi drove the Ethereum blockchain to touch 120 billion dollars in volume during the last months of 2020.
What is blockchain?
A giant ledger in which records (the blocks) are linked and encrypted to protect the security and privacy of transactions.

What are the crypto currencies?
It is a digital currency, not issued or controlled by a bank or belonging to any particular country, which can be used worldwide and with it you can acquire products or services through electronic transactions.
What are tokens?
They are the digital representation of a utility or value. Tokens themselves are worthless, and need a support and an ecosystem to regulate their transactions.

What are DeFi?
Decentralized Finance is the evolution of the well-known FinTech that were born in the 20th century. Its objective is to offer a whole series of financial services built on a decentralized infrastructure (Blockchain).
Why is this so revolutionary?

You could say that DeFi is to finance what the internet is to information. The existing methods of arbitration and justice are excessively slow, expensive and unreliable for today’s hyperconnected world.
